“Contribution of Indian Scientists in World Science”

The Department of Microbiology and Biochemistry in collaboration with “MICRANS” organized an Inter-collegiate Oral and Poster Competition for P. G. Students on the occasion of National Science Day on 28th February, 2022. The theme for the event was “Contribution of Indian Scientists in World Science”. In India, 28th February is celebrated as “National Science Day” in the memory of Sir C. V. Raman who discovered the “Raman Effect” on this day. This event was conducted in Department of Microbiology. The president for the programme was Dr. V. D. Nanoty, Principal Shri R. L. T. College of Science Akola. He shared his experiences in the world of science and gave the participants an insight into the contributions of our institute in promoting science. He also guided the participants with his motivating talk to promote scientific temperament in students. Dr. H. S. Malpani, Asstt. Prof. & Head Department of Microbiology and Biochemistry, introduced the event and gave the importance of participating in such events. He also talked about how this event can be a start of many more events in the future of science. He addressed all the participants as future “Young Scientists” of better India. Ms. S. N. Gawande, Asstt. Prof. Department of Microbiology, encouraged the students by her enthusiastic talk. She also interacted with the participants and tried to understand their ideas about science. Around 20 students from P. G. Department of Shri Shivaji College of Arts, Commerce and Science, Akola, Shankarlal Khandelwal College, Akola, and Shri R. L. T. College of Science Akola participated in the event, of which some delivered oral presentations and few presented posters. The event was anchored by Ms. M. M. Deshmukh. Mr. S. A. Toshniwal, Ms. A. S. Waghmare, Ms. M. R. Kashid helped the participants throughout the event. The non-teaching staff of the departments provided technical help in the event. The event was successfully conducted.
