

Diagrammatic manual of Chordate Morphology

During session 1019-20, a diagrammatic manual of Chordate Morphology was prepared by B.Sc. II, Semester III students under guidance of Dr. Archana S. Sawarkar and Dr. Sudhir Kohchale. This attractive self-study material is prepared for completing student's project assignment with an innovative participatory learning activity. About fifty competent and dedicated students contributed to this participative collective endeavour of sketching and completing this diagrammatic manual. This self-made e-book is adequately useful for studying chordate morphology more interestingly.
